

INTERMOOR NAMES COBB
VICE PRESIDENT OF BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT

HOUSTON (June 29, 2010) – InterMoor, an Acteon company, has named David Cobb Vice President of Business Development, announced InterMoor President Tom Fulton.

With more than 13 years of experience in the oil and gas industry and 11 years at InterMoor, Cobb will be responsible for overseeing InterMoor’s global sales, marketing and business development efforts based out of InterMoor’s Houston office.

Cobb previously served as InterMoor’s Business Development Manager as well as Projects Manager for InterMoor’s Aberdeen office where he was responsible for developing a project-based business. Prior to that position, Cobb was an InterMoor Project Manager for multiple preset mooring projects. He received his master’s degree in ocean engineering from Texas A&M University in 1999.

“With David’s broad background in both engineering and business development, we feel that he will be able to effectively coordinate with different departments of the company to help expand our growing business areas,” said Fulton. “We also feel that David’s experience working overseas will bring added value to our coordination efforts worldwide.”

InterMoor is the leading global mooring, foundations and subsea services company providing innovative solutions for rig moves and mooring services including engineering and design, survey and positioning, fabrication and subsea installation. Acteon is a group of specialist engineering companies serving the global oil and gas industry.
