

InterMoor Names Landry Subsea Operations Manager

HOUSTON (January 4, 2010) – InterMoor, an Acteon company, has named Ross Landry Subsea Operations Manager, announced InterMoor President Tom Fulton.

Working out of InterMoor's Lafayette, La., subsea facility, Landry will manage all activities related to subsea operations including but not limited to abrasive cutting services, heave compensation services and all facility-based projects.

Landry has served as Technical Manager and Assistant Operations Manager for InterMoor's subsea facility. He has been responsible for recruiting offshore personnel, implementing a preventative maintenance program to minimize operational downtime and for supervising the design modification of offshore equipment to improve reliability. Landry's 15 years of industry experience also include subsea positions at Oceaneering International and Stolt Offshore.

"Ross has helped manage the subsea facility's operations as they have expanded over the years," said Larry Puckett, Vice President of Operations. "His experience and knowledge of the department make him the perfect candidate to oversee InterMoor's subsea operations as they continue to grow."

InterMoor is the leading global mooring, foundations and subsea services company providing innovative solutions for rig moves, mooring services and offshore operations including engineering and design, survey and positioning, fabrication and subsea installation.

Acteon is a group of specialist engineering companies serving the global oil and gas industry.
